DEODORISATION - ANYWHERE

Biothys Hungary Kft. has been engaged in solving odour problems with effective and economical methods as the exclusive representative of the German Biothys GmbH in Hungary since 2003, and its Eastern and Central European representative since 2007. Biothys Hungary's registered office is in Budapest, 100 percent of the company is in Hungarian ownership and it has 7 employees.

The main feature of Biothys deodorising methods is the neutralisation of smells. As opposed to traditional methods, Biothys products do not achieve results by creating a covering scent but by substantially reducing the odour nuisance itself.

The research and development laboratory of Biothys is specialised in studying and treating the chemical aspects of problems caused by smells; improving and producing products for reducing odour nuisances; and working out technological solutions related to the application of the products.

Biothys' fields of deodorisation:

- waste management
- sewage water and mud treatment
- composting
- gases/ odours generated in animal keeping and animal husbandry
- agricultural and industrial activities
- indoor spaces
- other fields
